

Advanced Voice Recognition Systems Selects Dominion Harbor Group as Licensing Agent

Scottsdale, AZ and Dallas, TX —September 1, 2015 — Advanced Voice Recognition Systems, Inc. (AVRS)(OTCBB:AVOI) and Dominion Harbor Group, LLC (DHG), today announced that AVRS has retained DHG to license the AVRS family of patented innovations that are planned for growing use with mobile devices including smart phones and any device that benefits from speech recognition technology.

In addition to assisting AVRS in licensing its portfolio of patented inventions, DHG also plans to help buttress AVRS's portfolio by filing for additional patents on its latest advances in speech recognition as well as by seeding the firm with high-quality 3rd party patents related to its products through DHG's partner, the Monument Bank of Intellectual Property.

“The team at Dominion Harbor Group has the skills, industry relationships, and decades of experience needed to expand the reach of our intellectual property in industries like mobile products where voice recognition is becoming more important every day,” noted Walter Geldenhuys, President and CEO of AVRS. “Just as important, Dominion Harbor has a proven reputation as ethical licensors and a track record of success with the companies that we would like to see adopt our technology.”

For his part, Dominion Harbor CEO David Pridham had this to say: “We see a great opportunity here to help AVRS's innovations gain greater visibility and use in fast-growing industries where speech recognition is becoming ever-more important to consumers.”
